

Kathleen K. Hopper

Kathleen Hopper, originally from Louisville, KY, holds a Bachelor of Arts in Music with a minor in Art History from Murray State University (Murray, KY), a Master of Music from the University of North Carolina at Greensboro, and the Doctorate of Musical Arts with a cognate in Brass Literature and Pedagogy from the University of North Carolina at Greensboro.

She has performed with the Fibonacci Chamber Orchestra, Greensboro Philharmonia, Greensboro Concert Band, Paducah Symphony, Greensboro Choral Society, Bel Canto, Market Street Brass, Stratford Brass, Quaker Brass, Murray State University's Campus Lights, and Elon University Department of Performing Arts. Ms. Hopper has performed in conjunction with many professional societies and conferences including, the Society of Composers, Inc., the Southeast Horn Workshop, the British Association of Wind Band Ensembles, the North American Saxophone Alliance, the International Double Reed Society, and the World Association of Wind Band Ensembles. Her professional affiliations include Sigma Alpha Iota, Pi Kappa Lambda, the International Horn Society, and the College Music Society.

Ms. Hopper is Horn Instructor at Elon University (Elon, NC) where she teaches applied horn and horn ensemble and teaches applied horn for the University of North Carolina at Greensboro Summer Music Camp.