

A student of Dr. Anthony Taylor, Christine Pelland is currently working towards an MM degree in Clarinet Performance at the University of North Carolina at Greensboro (UNCG). Christine received a BM Music Education degree in May 2008 from the University of New Hampshire (UNH), which is located in her native state. While at UNH, Christine performed with the UNH Symphony Orchestra, Wind Symphony, Symphonic Band, UNH opera and Wildcat Marching Band. During her undergraduate career, Christine taught beginner through high school clarinet students around the New Hampshire seacoast. In the spring of 2008, Christine student taught general music to K-2 students in southern Maine. This past summer, Christine was a camp counselor at the UNCG Summer Music Camp, where she conducted clarinet, saxophone, and flute sectionals to middle school and high school students. Currently, Christine is a member of the UNCG Wind Ensemble, and has previously performed with the UNCG Symphonic Band, Clarinet Trio, and Clarinet Ensemble.